WILLIAM E. LITTLE MISSING.

Note Announcing Intended Salcide, Daniel B. Little, of Anacostia, reported to Detective Horne at police headquarters yesterday that his son, William E. Little, had disappeared from his boarding place, No.
1242 Second street northeast, and left a note saying he intended to kill himself.

To the note the young man stated that he was fired of life and had not been successful in his business, so he thought the best way out of the matter was to drown himself. The note was found by Wrs.
Hager, the landlady, who at once sent for the young man's father. Mr. Little, sr., told betective Horne that he did not think his son had committed salcide. He said the young man was subject to fits of despondency, and hadled nome before under some what similar circumstances.

He is a sign painter by trade and is engaged to a young lady who is at present a nurse at St. Elizabeth's asylum. The young people are anxions to marry, and the young hidly became a nurse in order that she might assist her betrothed, and carn as much money as possible. He became despondent over lack of work, and the glosiny prospect which seemed to put his weedling day further and further a way, and finale. Disappeared from His Home Leavinga
